

Do Now Task: MWBs

1) What are the four Orchard Standards?

A_____

A_____

P_____

R_____

Ambitious, Active, Passive and Resistant

2) What were your most proud of from last year?

What kind of learner do you choose to be?

Orchard Standards Are you.....	Ask yourself these questions...
Ambitious?	- Am I fully prepared, on time, and equipped for every lesson? - Do I follow FAST first time, every time? - Do I complete all independent work to the best of my ability? - Do I ask for help when I'm unsure about something? - Do I actively engage in all lesson activities? - Do I proactively seek out feedback to improve my work? - Do I ask relevant and thought-provoking questions? - Do I complete additional or optional work to support my learning?

Why Being Active Matters

Being active in lessons mean that:

- You understand and remember more
- You become more confident
- You enjoy lessons more
- You make more progress

Being an active learner is something you do for yourself.

Strive for Ambitious

Active is where your learning begins, but being ambitious is what we should strive for.

Sport analogy: Two Basketballers.....

Discussion: What is the difference between an active and passive student? Can someone be well behaved but still be a passive learner? Why?*

Think

Pair

Share

Mini-Whiteboards

1. What is the benefit of being an active learner?
2. What makes an ambitious learner different from an active learner?
3. What can you do in your lessons this week to ensure you are active?
4. True or False: I can only get ambitious if I make the most progress.

Summary

- Your attitude is a choice and it shapes your success in school and life!
- Active learners make the most out of every lesson, but ambitious learners go one step further.
- In your lessons, strive to be an active/ambitious learner.